

NAVIGATING THE WORLD OF INTERNATIONAL PAYMENTS

Specialist currency support for the yachting and marine industry

Searching for value

Across the industry, the search for value is a key issue. Whether you're involved in brokerage, building, maintenance and design or whether you own a yacht, international costs and tax structuring present a challenge. In addition, the industry as a whole is facing ever-growing costs and requirements. In the UK, a target from the government for vessels to meet new standards for zero-emission capable technologies by 2025 adds to the costs. In New Zealand, the possibility of additional fees for yachts over 40m to anchor in Hauraki Gulf in the lead up to the 2021 America's Cup may be on hold, but demonstrate how global costs are rising.

Addressing the challenge of international payments

A specialist international payments account can hold up to 39 currencies and includes tools to manage the risk of currency fluctuations. The solution allows you to minimise cash on board vessels through account and card services to operators and the crew. In addition, moneycorp bank allocates your organisation or vessel with dedicated IBANs to speed up international payments and reduce transfer fee costs. While e-money licenses are limited by geography, moneycorp is a global organisation that can provide support for all your international payment needs.

How can we help?

A currency specialist can help people in the yachting and marine industry save time and money on their foreign exchange and global payment requirements. From crew salaries and docking fees to brokerage, maintenance and other services, the nature of the industry means that costs are incurred in multiple currencies.

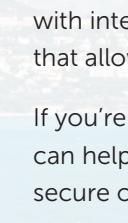

Our specialist team helps clients manage currency volatility risk and save money on payment routes by leveraging our local clearing capabilities to help solve the complexities and costs of settling bills worldwide.

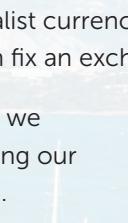

Make purchases anywhere in the world with 120+ currencies

Send payments across the world anytime with 24/7 online access

Automate regular weekly or monthly payments

Receive specialist guidance on how to manage your funds across borders

In addition, we can provide access to specialist tools that allow you to track, target and even fix the prevailing exchange rate so that you can make the most of your money overseas.

Cost effective solutions with expert support

Great value foreign exchange transactions for all your operational payments, costs and revenue are just the start. A secure online account with live statements allows for close management of costs including bulk upload and payee verification as well as real-time reporting through the progress of every international payment.

The solution provides greater flexibility in funding, allows for the receipt of third party payments including Advance Provisioning Allowance (APA) and other payments from charter clients. The global payment solution provides a full audit trail as well as day to day support on all your requirements.

Currency costs can impact your bottom line

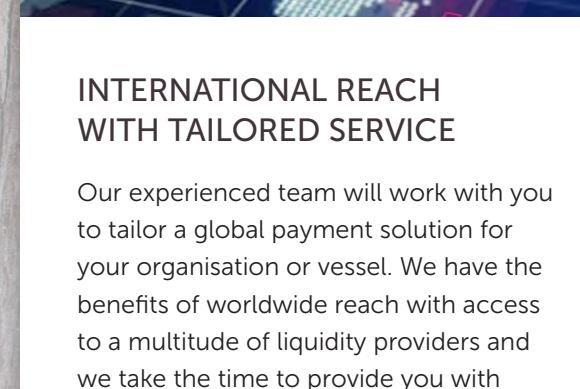

The fluctuating foreign exchange market means that it can be difficult to manage costs and revenue.

Operating in multiple currencies brings a measure of risk, and adds to your costs with currency transfer fees as well as the time it takes to manage it all.

We offer expert guidance on the currency market to help with international payments and specialist currency tools that allow you to track, target and even fix an exchange rate.

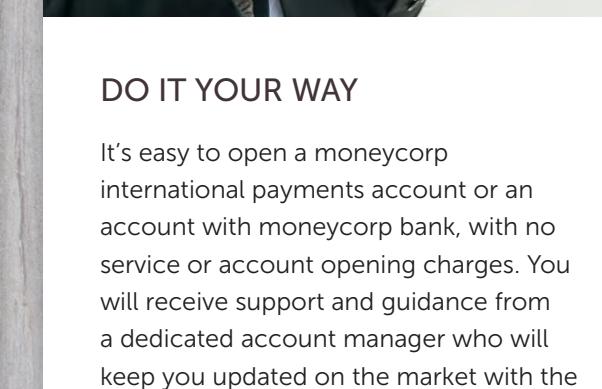

If you're dealing in multiple currencies, we can help you manage all your costs using our secure online platform and mobile app.
